

The art of medicine

Budget pressures, long days and tightly packed appointment slots are making health care stressful. We are offering a better way to practice medicine, and we are looking for a GP who prioritises quality of life along with patient care.

We are just over the English border, a short drive from the coast and the mountains, in an area named the happiest place to live in Wales! Shrewsbury and Chester are both a short hop away.

Fifteen-minute appointments are the norm here, and to keep it interesting we assist in two cottage hospitals. We are about to move into a new multi-million pound well-being centre.

The buzzy and historic market town of Machynlleth is our base. We have 7,000 patients, a wonderful team and a friendly, appreciative community.

Partner or salaried.
